Hot Springs, Ark. – Ashley Lyons, a lab analyst for CH2M Hill, is this year's recipient of the Arkansas Water Environment Association's Wastewater Laboratory Analyst of the Year Award. The award was presented at the annual AWW&WEA meeting in Hot Springs on April 27.

Lyons is a level II lab analyst at the Fayetteville Paul R. Noland Water Resource Recovery Facility (WRRF). She began her career at the Fayetteville WRRF four years ago starting with general duties and progressing to the laboratory. She has obtained her Wastewater Operator Class III licensure in addition to her continued job training.

She is cited on her nomination as being an indispensable addition to the laboratory and member of the project Safety Team and project Annual Business Plan Team.
