Hot Springs, Ark. – Jennifer Enos, wastewater facilities director for Springdale Water Utilities is this year's recipient of the Mike Thomason Wastewater Manager Award. Springdale Water Utilities, also received the 2017 Arkansas Water Environment Association Safety Award for Cities with Populations Greater than 20,000.

The awards were presented at the annual Arkansas Water Works & Water Environment Association (AWW&WEA) Conference in Hot Springs on May 1.

The award acknowledges a wastewater utility manager who has shown excellence in community service, employee mentoring or environmental stewardship.

Enos has been a part of Springdale Water Utilities since 1989 and has over 30 years of experience in the industry. She is responsible for all activities and overall operation and efficiency of the wastewater treatment facility. She is active in the Northwest District of the AWW&WEA, having served as the district director from 2013-2015. She is currently active on the wastewater licensing committee and is a participant in the 2016-17 Leadership Springdale program.

The safety award, presented to the utility, acknowledges utilities that have shown excellence in improving or increasing the awareness of safety.

Springdale Water Utilities was recognized for the active effort by employees and managers to provide a safe working environment by encouraging employee participation in safety efforts such as monthly safety training and being active on the safety committee. The utility recorded zero lost time for accidents.
